After supper all were invited into the church where a delightful programme arranged by Miss Lillian Danlels, the church pastor, was given by the young people. Although somewhat impromptu, the children's work was heartily applauded and reflected much credit to Miss Daniel's care.

Messrs. John Quidgeon and Frank Burrows gave selections upon the violin and guitar throughout the programme which were greatly enjoyed. The opening number was a song by the Misses Beatrice Fowler, Carrie Burdick, Winefred Quidgeon, Doris Fowler, Mrs. Ella Avery presiding at the organ. The remainder of the programme follows: Recitation Thanksgiving at Squire Beetham's, Miss Bertha Northdruft; exercise: a flag song including the salute to the flag by Carrie Burdick, Beatrice Fowler, Harry Quidgeon and Courtland Fowler. Recitation, Six Times Nine, by little Carrie Burdick; recitation, James Whitcomb Riely's Seeing Things at Night, recited by little Beatrice Fowler, dressed as a boy.

Miss Daniels told several humorous stories. The programme closed by all singing America. GET HIGH SCORES

This same team competed at the National Dairy show, in which the competition was much stronger, there being eighteen teams competing. The scores for all teams and contestants were very close together. The best are very interesting. As all the nava' officers stationed at the submarine base have visited the German merchantman Deutschland Lieut. Mann may possibly comment on the submascores for all teams and contestants were very close together. The best score made was by S. M.
